AHIS ONLINE EVENT 2026

Open to Participants Throughout Sweden and the Nordic Countries

The AHIS Online Event is back! In 2026, we are once again offering Arabian horse enthusiasts the opportunity to participate in online riding competitions, allowing us to showcase our fantastic Arabian horses and Partbreds and demonstrate their versatility.

This year, we are also welcoming competitors from the other Nordic countries, as well as non-members with Arabian horses and Partbreds, to participate in the competitions. Please see the updated price list for entry fees for each discipline.

We also offer judging for horses that are not Arabians. The entry fee for these rides is the same as for the respective discipline. However, these rides will not be included in any results list and will not be eligible for rosettes. They are offered for judging and feedback only.

For participants from other countries, the postage cost for a rosette, should the participant receive a placing, must be paid by the participant in advance. Once the postage cost has been confirmed and payment received, the rosette will be sent to the competitor.

Please note that postage costs may vary depending on the country. Communication regarding postage will be handled using the participant's telephone number registered in HorseDB.

GOOD LUCK TO ALL COMPETITORS!

JUDGING & RULES

Show Jumping and Dressage will be judged in accordance with the regulations of the Swedish Equestrian Federation (Svenska Ridsportförbundet). No results will be officially reported.

Western disciplines will be judged in accordance with WRAS regulations. No results will be officially reported to WRAS.

Pole Bending and Barrel Racing will be judged according to the WRAS Rulebook 2025. However, the results will not be reported to WRAS.

Results, judges' comments and rosettes will be sent out after the competition has ended and all results have been compiled.

CHOOSING YOUR DISCIPLINE

You may choose which discipline or disciplines you wish to participate in.

Each discipline will have its own competition notice containing more detailed information, including how to enter, contact person, classes, judging criteria, entry fees, specific rules and other relevant requirements.

ENTRY FEES

The entry fee depends on the discipline and class you enter. Higher fees apply to non-members. Please see the competition notice for each individual discipline for specific pricing.

HOW TO ENTER

Competition Entry – HorseDB
https://horsedb.dlarsson.se/

Create an account if you do not already have one. Once your account has been created, you can register for the competition.

A step-by-step guide explaining how to register is available on the AHIS website if you need assistance.

IMPORTANT – INDIVIDUAL USER ACCOUNTS

For our online competitions, it is essential that each rider has their own individual user account. Every horse-and-rider combination must have its own unique entry number. This helps prevent confusion when the submitted videos are being judged.

It is not correct to register a horse using your own account and then also register another rider through your account. In this case, only one entry number will be generated.

Only one user account can be registered to each email address. If you are a parent, horse owner or trainer creating an account for another rider, use an email address that has not previously been registered to another user account.

Enter your telephone number and address in your profile. This is required so that we can provide your personal entry number and, after the competition, send out items such as rosettes.

IMPORTANT – NON-MEMBER ENTRIES

If you are a non-member and wish to compete, regardless of breed, please register under the “Other” section in HorseDB. This is necessary to ensure that your entry is correctly processed in the system.

PARTICIPATING IN THE AHIS ONLINE EVENT

Videos must be submitted to the person responsible for the relevant discipline via WhatsApp. If you do not already have WhatsApp, you will need to download the app.

Videos must be submitted no later than the day after the closing date for the relevant discipline.

For classes where timekeeping is required, we recommend downloading “StopwatchCamera – Add to Movie”. The stopwatch must be clearly visible in the video for the entire duration of the recording. This makes the process easier and means that only one person is needed to film while displaying the time simultaneously.

FILMING GUIDELINES – ALL DISCIPLINES

- Have someone available to help you film.
- Read through the rules and requirements for the discipline and class you are participating in.
- The person filming must stand in the designated filming position on the arena/course. The filming position differs between disciplines.
- Do not film against the sun or in strong backlight.
- Only one horse-and-rider combination may appear in the video.
- Only one horse-and-rider combination may be present on the competition arena/course at a time.
- Image quality is more important than sound quality, but the sound must remain switched on.
- You do not need a competition number bib. Before starting, clearly state your personal entry number and the class you are participating in.
- You may not start filming until you have received your personal entry number.

EQUIPMENT CHECK BEFORE THE RIDE

Before you begin riding, the person filming must slowly and clearly film the rider’s and horse’s equipment, allowing the judge to verify that only permitted equipment is being used.

- Bit
- Bridle
- Noseband
- Reins
- Saddle
- Stirrups
- Boots / leg protection / shoes
- Spurs
- Riding crop / whip

Please stop briefly at each item that needs to be inspected so that the equipment can be clearly seen in the video.

DURING FILMING

- The rider must give a clear nod before starting.
- In disciplines where this is customary, the rider must also give a clear nod after crossing the finish line.
- Keep the camera steady and follow the entire ride.
- Use the zoom function when necessary to ensure that the ride can be seen clearly.
- The entire horse-and-rider combination must remain visible throughout the ride.

NO EDITING OR CUTS

The submitted video must be one continuous recording.

- Must not be edited.
- Must contain no cuts or interruptions.
- Must not be spliced or otherwise altered.
- Must show the entire ride from start to finish.
- Must keep the complete horse-and-rider combination visible throughout the performance.

The Discipline Leader and Judge(s) reserve the right to disqualify a horse-and-rider combination if the submitted video is considered insufficient for the ride to be properly judged.

PAYMENT & VIDEO DEADLINES

- Payment must be completed before your personal entry number is issued.
- Unpaid entry = No valid entry.
- Videos must be submitted no later than the day after the closing date for the relevant discipline.
- Videos submitted after the deadline will not be judged.

USE OF SUBMITTED VIDEOS

Your submitted video may be selected at random and published on the AHIS Facebook page.

If you do not want your video to be published, please state this in the “Other” field when completing your entry in the registration system.
