Ethics and rules

Dressage, jumping, driving and working equitation are judged according to the Swedish Equestrian Federation Competition Regulations (TR) for the various classes: <https://www.ridsport.se/tavling/ReglerochTR/> However, the choice of bit (snaffle or double bridle) is optional in MsV C. The number of entries is limited to 40 per day in the Dressage and to a maximum of 10 entries in Working Equitation. Please, register if you want to be on a stand-by list for participation.

Western classes are judged according to the Swedish Western Association (WRAS) rulebook (contact the event leader for any specification). Note that it is not allowed to use curb-bit at the D-level!

Barrel racing and Pole bending are judged according to WRAS rulebook and include from 2017 two heats. Note that the choice of saddle and bit is free.

Speed is judged according to ECAHO Green Book:

https://www.ecaho.org/uploads/914466cc76d0f5caf133db98b6978a94_2021greenbookfinal.pdf including descriptions of the performances.

Classic Pleasure, Ladies Side Saddle Classic & Western and Native Costume (Traditional Arabian Riding) will be judged according to ECAHO rules but only by one (1) judge that is not approved by ECAHO.

Class no. 209 Cross Country is judged according to rules at:

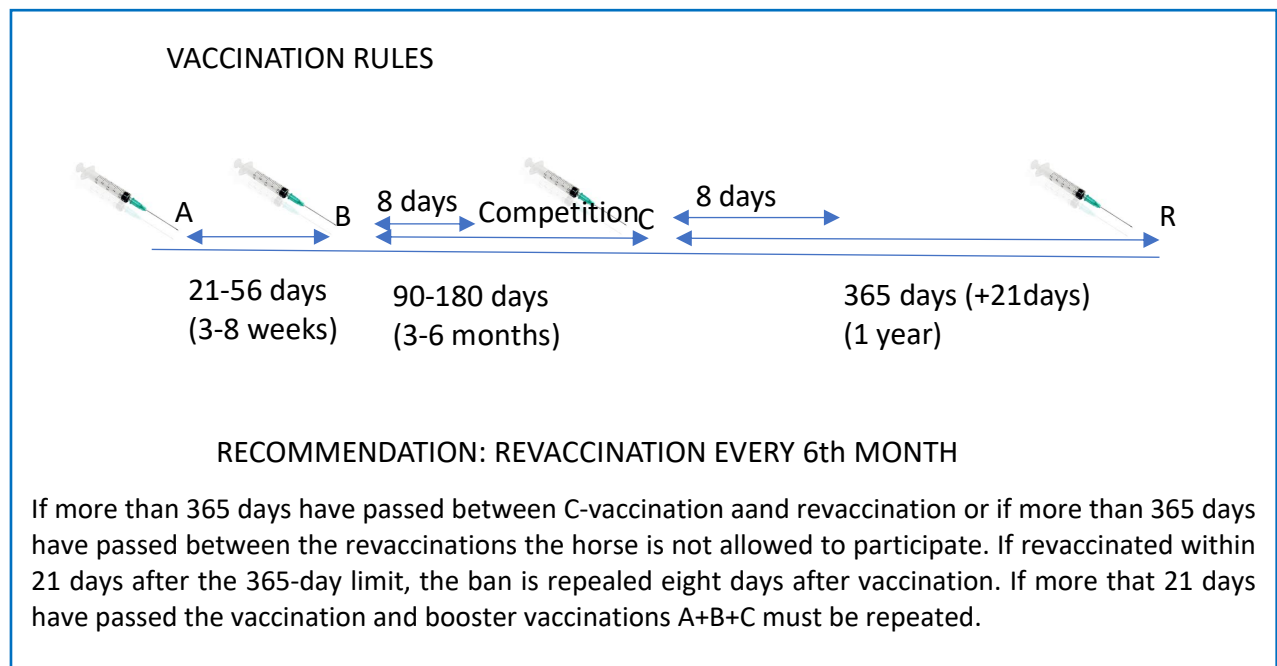

<https://ahis.se/onewebmedia/Regler%20terr%c3%a4nghoppning.pdf>

Conformation assessment

All horses in the class enter the ring walking and returns to the collecting ring waiting for their individual assessment. An assistant to the handler is allowed during the individual assessment to help showing the trot but NO “excitements” from outside the ring is allowed. At the individual assessment the horse enters the ring trotting, halt for examination, thereafter walk in a small triangle, trot in a bigger triangle and halt before leaving the ring walking according to instructions from ringmaster. The horse is allowed to show-off but only on a straight line with no rotations. Working trot must be shown on at least one of the straight lines. For each class, the six horses with highest points will enter the ring for price ceremony. If two horses have reached the same point, the highest ranking for type is decisive and thereafter the rankings for “trot” followed by “body and topline”. Rules and illustrations are found at:

<https://ahis.se/onewebmedia/Detta%20g%C3%A4ller%20f%C3%B6r%20visning%20i%20utst%C3%A4llningsklassen%20Sportcupen,%20med%20ritning.pdf>

Every entered horse must have a valid passport. If vaccination is not apparent from the passport, a separate vaccination certificate must be presented before unloading (same rules as for official national competitions arranged by SvRF and WRAS) as outlined below:

Veterinary inspection of all horses is mandatory for jumping 110 cm, pole bending, barrel racing, reining B and Speed and takes place Saturday and Sunday morning. The cost is 350 SEK and is a one-time cost per horse. The inspection must be done on the day for the class to allow entrance.

Safety rules

Swedish Riders of Classic disciplines are recommended to have a green card from the Swedish Equestrian Federation (SvRF). For others we recommend to have participated in at least one official competition in that discipline Note that insurance from SvRF not is valid as the present competition is under a separate regime and no rider license is required. Consequently, participation is at your own risk.

Helmet, long-sleeved shirt, approved safety vest, as well as spikes on at least the front feet (for horses with shoes) are mandatory for Speed and Cross Country Jumping. Rod and spurs are not allowed in Speed.

Approved safety vest (acc. TR) is mandatory in all jumping classes for youngsters under 18 years. Helmets are required for all riders under 18 years, equipment in general according to TR and WRAS rules, respectively. Riders younger than 18 years must have written permission from a parent or guardian to be allowed to handle and/or ride stallions on the competition grounds. Guardian thereby takes full responsibility for any damage to the horse, to the child and to any third parties.

The riders provide their own number labels. The riders who don't, can borrow them at the Secretariat. If not returned at checkout, a fee of 50 SEK will be reimbursed.

No rider can enter more than three horses per class. No horse is allowed to participate in more than three Classical classes per day, except for the conformation assessment. No horse is allowed to participate in more than five Western classes per day, except for the conformation assessment. For participation in both Western and Classic classes the same day, the limit for the horse is the same as in Classic classes, i.e., three. The equipage (same horse and rider) participates in all classes of an All-round Championship, except for the Partbred Cup that is based on the results of the horse. A horse can enter the Liberty class in addition to the number of classes detailed above.

Award ceremony takes place on horseback in full equipment. Only the event leader can give exceptions from this rule.

Facility and courses

The facility has an indoor arena, a grass court and three outdoor courts of different sizes. The planned court/arena for different classes is indicated in the time schedule. The Event Committee reserves the right to change the specified court/arena on short notice.

Classes, All-round Championships and prizes

In classical riding, there are 7 levels in jumping (50/60, 70, 80, 90, 100, 105, 110); 5 levels in dressage (Lätt C:1, Lätt B:1, Lätt B:3, Lätt A:1, Lätt A:3, Msv C:1, Msv B:2, FEI Inledande program Msv B Juniorer) and 3 levels (D, C, B) in Western. These correspond to the ECAHO levels N, A and M. Only certain classes are included in the All-round Championships, see separate Tables. It is allowed to enter bitless in dressage LC, LB, LA. This will be as a "class within the class" and purebreds and partbreds will compete against each other within that class. Thus, there will be three ranks within each of these classes.

RM-title in Jumping is determined in two classes: nos. 263 and 274.

RM-title in Dressage is determined in classes nos. 342 and 351 and the NM title in no. 352.

RM-title in Dressage for Partbreds is determined in classes nos. 342 and 351, provided at least three Partbreds are registered.

RM- and NC-titles in Western are determined in the nine classes 131-139. The first three placed in each discipline will receive a medal.

Only riders living in Sweden can compete for the RM titles and only Nordic citizens can compete for the NC title. To nominate a Nordic Champion (NC) participation from at least two countries in each class is required.

Prize ceremonies for RM classes will be held after the class whereas prize ceremonies for the All-round Championships are conducted on Sunday when all cups are ended.

Placed contestants in all classes receive a rosette. Placed 1-3 in the Cups will receive a rosette. In the Elite All-around Championship monetary prizes, sponsored by SAHR, will be awarded the winner and second and third ranked equipages. The prize money will be in the range from 2 000 to 500SEK. RM- and NC- winners receive a medal and a horse blanket. Jumping 50/60 cm is ridden as "clear round" and clear round rosettes are awarded to the participants.

Challenge prizes instituted in 2012 by Charlotte Björge will be awarded to the most versatile contestant in Western and Classic, respectively. The organizer will appoint the winners. Nasdaq's challenge prize, initiated in 2015 by Pia Lewerentz, will be awarded to the best young dressage rider.

The best jumping and dressage equipages will be awarded based on their mean percentage/faults obtained from their entries at Sportcupen.

Prize for best "Retired Returner" will be awarded. A jury will choose the winner. This award is open to riders who are over 50 years and have not competed for at least three years. Please register to the regular classes and mark with "Retired Returner".

A Liberty-class will take place indoors Saturday night, lasting approximately one and a half hour. A maximum of 15 horses can participate, entrance in order of application. Each horse will get 6 min inclusive "catching". The judge for the class is Louise Wale. The Liberty class will start up the barbeque night and some snacks and soft drinks will be served.

All-round Championships

Three difficulty levels for All-round in classical riding will be available: Rookie (Novice), Intermediate (Advanced) and Elite (Master). Western All-round likewise has three levels: Rookie, Intermediate and Elite. In addition there is a Timed Events Cup and a separate Cup for Partbreds. NOTE regarding the Partbred Cup: As the number of participating Partbreds usually is low and make entries in numerous classes at various levels, the number of entries (maximum 6) including Composition that is obligatory are counted. The Partbreds will be ranked according to their individual entries to generate the result for the Cup.

A horse that competes on the RM or NC levels and also wants to participate in the All-round Championships, may only do so on the Elite (Master) level. It is only allowed to start at one All-round level and if the horse starts classes at multiple levels, it is the highest single-class it is participating in that determines which All-round level you qualify for. In the entry form you must therefore, first, state the desired All-round level and in which classes belonging to that level, you want to participate in. Second, register the independent (Mono) classes according to the complete class list below. Participation in 1 Classic, 1 Western and Time Events Cup is allowed for an equirage but check carefully that the number of entries per day not exceed what is allowed (see below).

Participants in All-round Championships must participate in at least 4 classes (conformation class + 3 ridden/in hand classes in Western). For the Classic All-round, either a dressage or show class is mandatory according to the table below. In Western All-round either reining or trail / trail in hand is mandatory. Be sure to check what the mandatory classes are for each level. In the Classic All-round with two dressage/show jump classes, results from the highest level will be counted for those that participate at both levels, except if the equirage is excluded from a class. For participants in All-round, it is mandatory that the rider also presents the horse in the conformation class. The event leader can give exceptions in very special cases.

All-around points are given to participants that take part in relevant conformatonclass in relation to the number of horses in that class; highest point = the number participants in the All-around Championship. The conformation-class is separated into stallion, mare, gelding and Part-bred (including all genders). Thus, if an All-around has five participants a maximum of 5 points can be achieved provided that all horses are in the same class – theoretically a mare (87.5 points), a stallion (89 points) and three geldings (A= 85, B=89.5, C=82 points) will yield the All-around points: Gelding B: 5points; stallion: 4points; mare: 3 points, gelding A: 2 points and; gelding C: 1 point).

Ranking system for the All-round Championships

Number of entries in class	All-round points
	1 st	2 nd	3 rd	4 th	5 th	10 th	11 th	15 th
3	3	2	1	0
4	4	3	2	1	0
10	10	9	8	7	6	1	0
15	10	9	8	7	6	1	0

The points for each All-round is calculated depending on number of participants in that discipline, maximum points = participants in the All-round. For instance, five participants generate five points in the Cup provided that all enters that discipline. Consequently, if only four of the five All-round riders enter a discipline, the winner will get 4 points, the second gets 3 points, etc. If only one All-round rider enters only one point can be attained. Maximum point is 10, regardless number of participants.

All-round results for each participant are calculated on max. 6 of the classes the equirage participated in, namely the obligatory composition class, the mandatory ridden class (dressage alternatively jumping in the classic All-round, alt. trail or reining in western All-round) and the four best results in remaining classes. Disqualified: Counted as an entry to establish the total number to be scored but will receive 0 points. (e.g. 4-3-2-0). Equally placed: Receives same score but the next point level below will be skipped (e.g. 4-3-3-1).

Credits: For the All-round Championships, previous (2021/22) results for endurance or racing can be credited. Clear Round (CR) gives 1 point up to 80 km and 2 points for 120 km - 160km. All racing entrances give 1 point, if more than one equiptage in the same All-round has participated in the same race the normal ranking will be applied.

If two or more horses have the same final All-round score, the winner will be the one who achieved the highest score in the composition class. If a contestant is not present at the award ceremony, the title and the prize will be awarded to the second placed.
